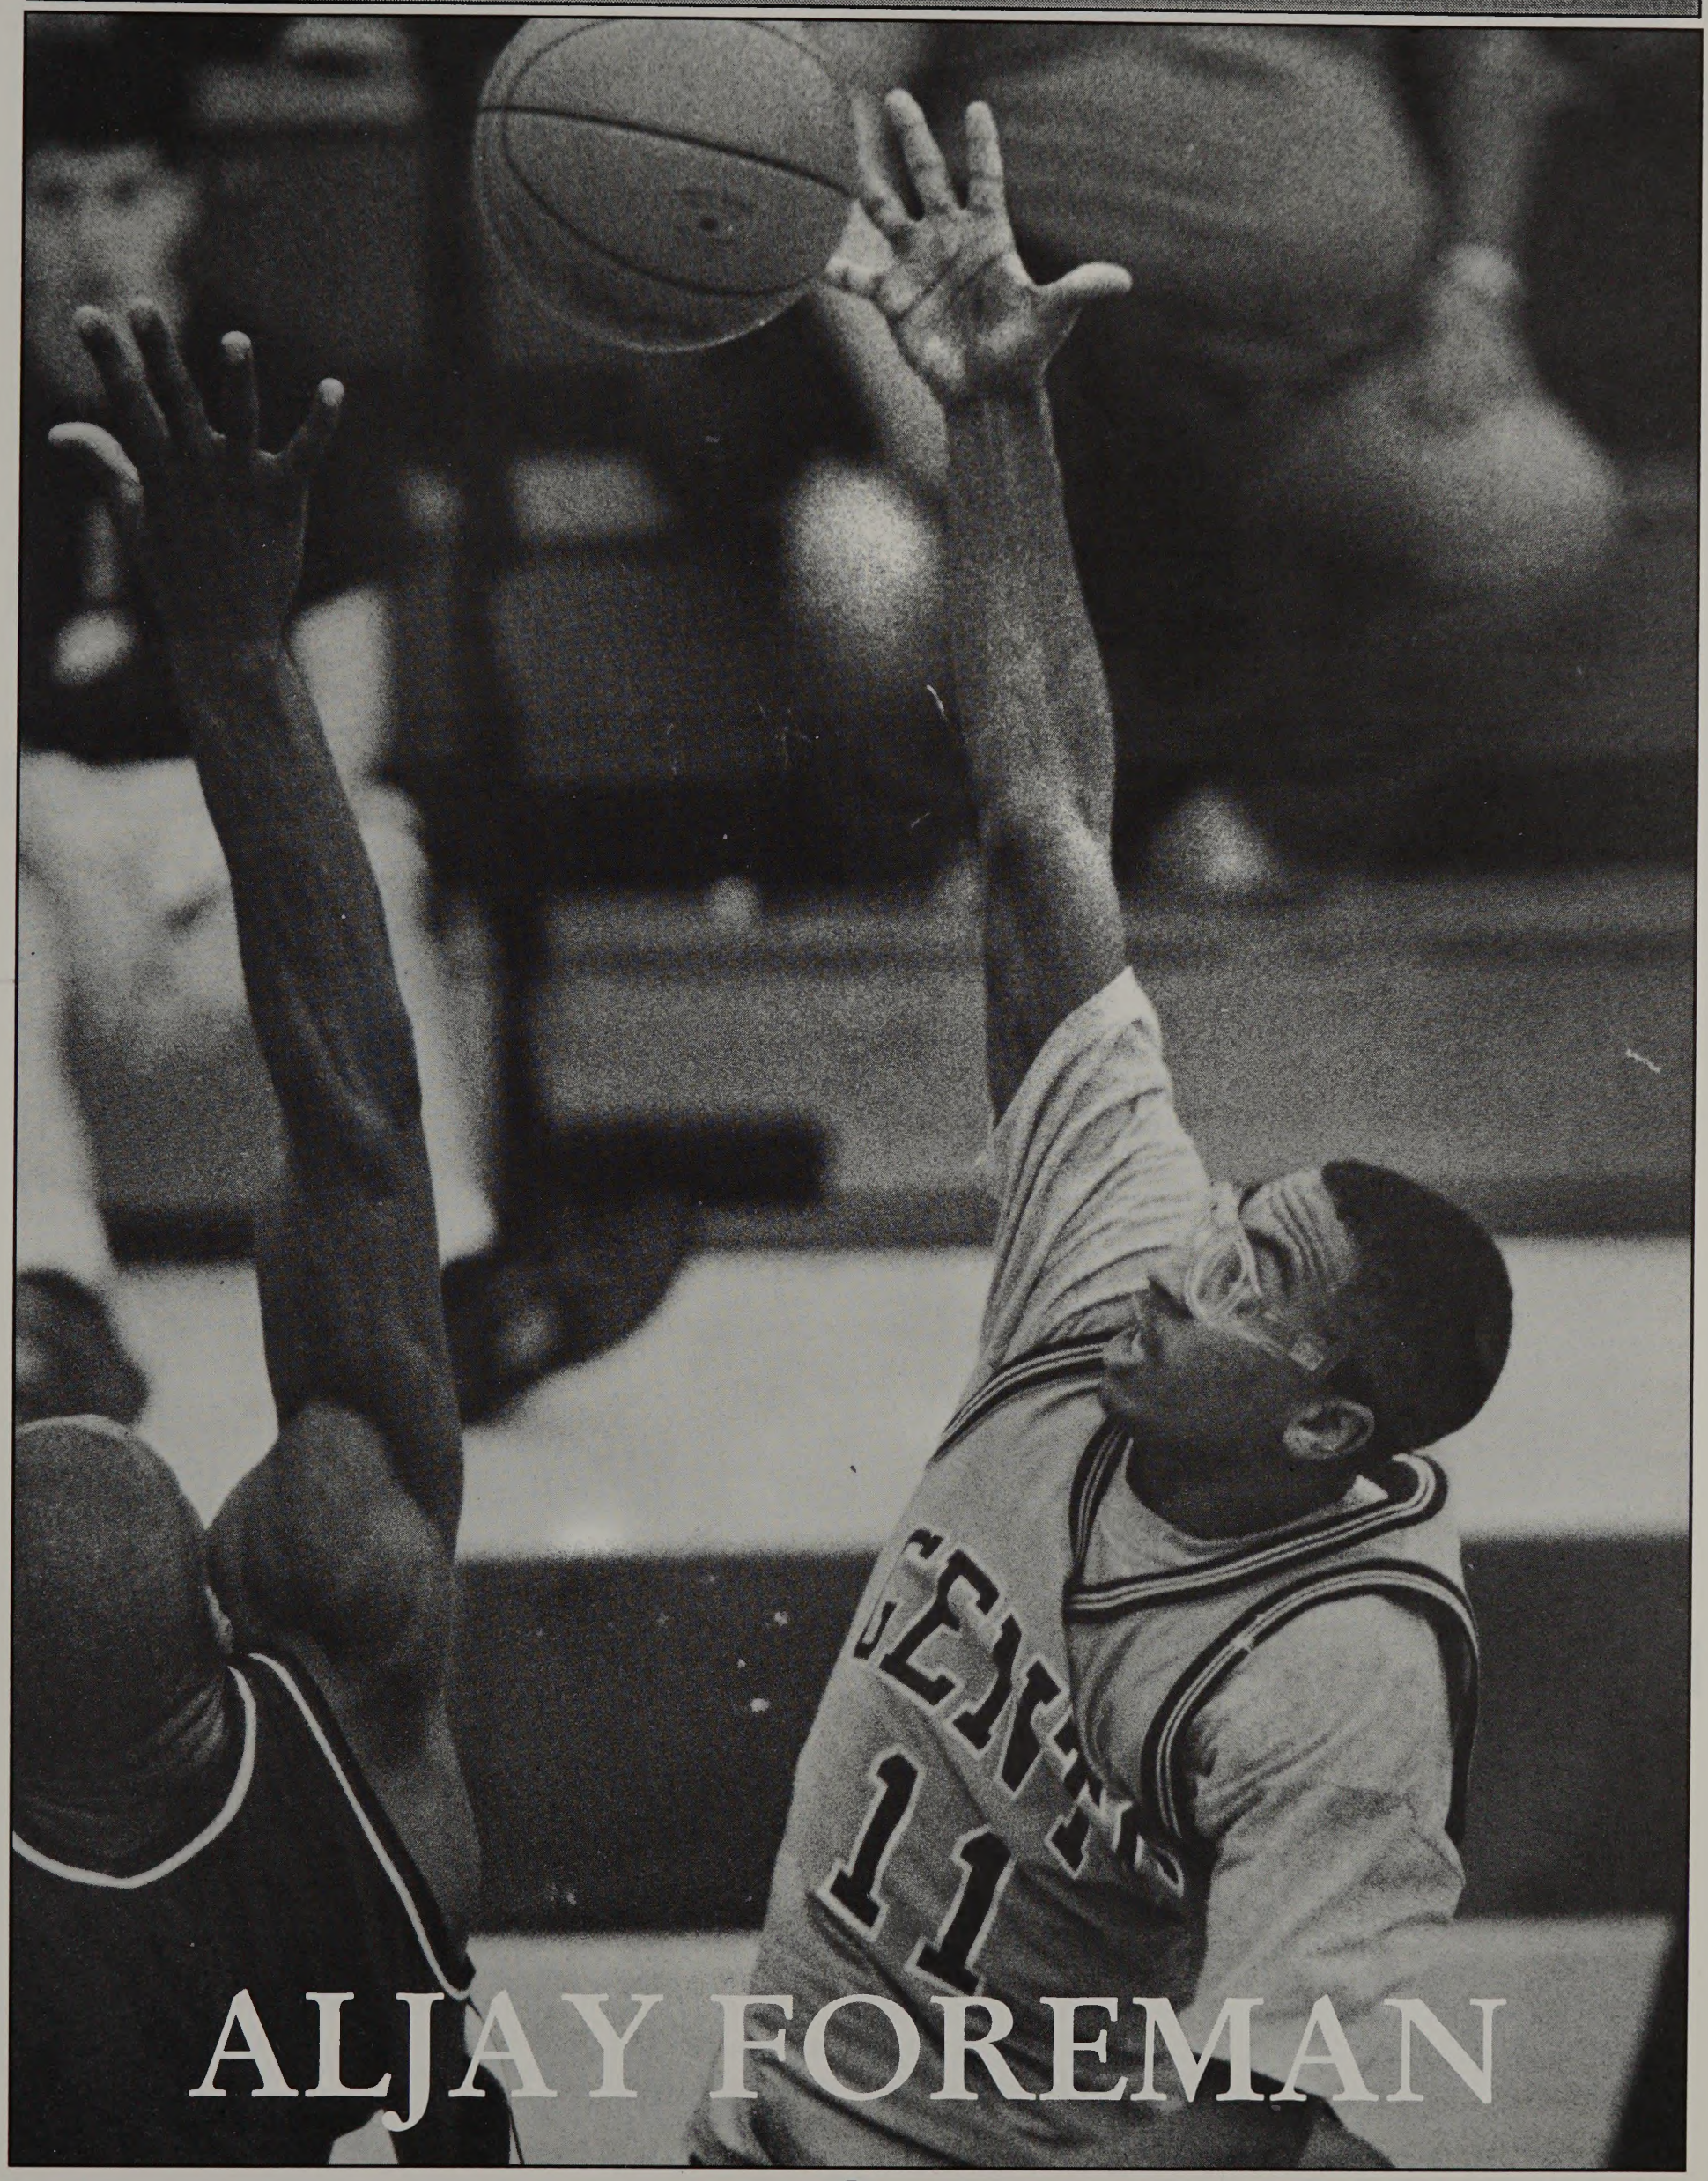
THE OUTLOOK



1994-95 OUTLOOK

GENTS SET SIGHTS ATOP THE TAAC

TEAM DEPTH AND EXPERIENCE SHOULD PLAY KEY FACTORS...

A senior-laiden class will hit the hardwood for the Centenary Gents in 1994-95, hoping to build upon last season's respectable 16-12 campaign that saw the team finish fifth in the Trans America Athletic Conference regular season.

Tommy Vardeman returns for his sixth year as head coach of the Gents with a supporting cast of six seniors and two returning juniors. Add that to a recruiting class of two junior college transfers and a freshman, as well as three redshirts returning, and you can tell why "TV" is excited about the upcoming season.

"I truly believe that we can be even better this year than we were last season," said Vardeman, who has posted a 74-68 career record (.521) at Centenary since being named to the post prior to the 1989-90 season after serving 10 years as the assistant/associate coach here.

"We have a team dominated by upperclassmen who have seen both the peaks and the valleys. Fortunately, we climbed out of the valley and made our way towards the peak last season. This season, we can continue our climb back to the top of the TAAC if we get leadership out of our seniors and our newcomers are as good as we think they are."

THE GUARDS

One of the most underrated backcourts in the nation will return to the starting lineup as point guard Anthony Stephens and off guard Aljay Foreman return for their junior years.

Foreman provides the Gents with an outside shooting threat, as he nailed 89 three-pointers last season (just five shy of the school and TAAC record). He also led the team in 3-point field goal percentage (.434) and ended the season ranked in the Top 20 nationally with 3.2 treys per game.

In Stephens, the Gents have a true point guard who is cat-quick on the dribble. Last season he helped lead the Gents to a 13-6 start before suffering a torn thumb ligament that required surgery following a 79-74 victory over Rice. Without Stephens as a starter, the team won just once in their next four outings.

"Those two go together like a houndog and fleas," said Vardeman of his starting guards. "They are a tremendous asset to both our offensive production and our defensive stability."

Defensively, the two led the team in steals after combining for 98 thefts last season. Once they stole it, they were just as apt to pass it than shoot it, as evidenced by Stephens' 3.7 assists and Foreman's 3.5 assists per game.

Providing depth off the bench will be a talented group of returnees plus an impact freshman. Back for their senior seasons are Trenton Smith and Lucien Bianchi, who can both shoot it from anywhere on the floor. Smith hit a 25-footer and a 30-footer in the Gents' TAAC semi-final loss to Central Florida, while Bianchi is coming off a injury-filled season that saw him compete in just seven contests.

Also returning to the deepest position on the team will be redshirt sophomore Walter Camper, who sat out all of last season trying to recover from a broken ankle he suffered in the 11th game of his freshman season. One of the Gents best defensive players, Camper was about to be inserted into the starting lineup before suffering his injury in a home loss to Central Florida back in 1992-93. If he returns healthy the Gents will have a player who will challenge for a starting spot at the point or the off guard positions.

Freshmen Herbert Lang and Todd Martinez will also push for playing time. Lang, a 6-3 point guard, was Centenary's first signee last Spring after averaging 22.1 points, 8.0 rebounds, and 7.0 assists at Brinkley (AR) High School. He was named All-State and first-team All-Region after leading his team to a 21-5 record and an appearance in the state tournament. Martinez redshirted last season after making the team as a walk-on.

THE BIG MEN

This is a position where at first look, the Gents seem weaker than last season. But if you consider the facts, the Gents could be even stronger here this year.

The first priority on Vardeman's mind is to find a replacement at power forward for Nate Taylor, who was named the TAAC's pre-season Player-of-the-Year last season and who led the team in scoring (15.9) and rebounding (9.1).

Amongst the early candidates to fill the spot will be seniors James Thomas and Josh Wagoner, both of whom transferred to Centenary last season from New Mexico Military.

Thomas is just 6-5 but loves to play power basketball. He thrilled many crowds last season with his high-flying slam dunks and blocked shots. He showed flashes of being able to dominate a game, such as a career-high outing at Mercer when he garnered personal bests of 23 points, 12 rebounds, and 5 blocked shots.

Wagoner had a steady year for the Gents, coming off the bench in 27 games and getting one start. He can play power forward or the post position. He scored a season-high 15 points twice in back-to-back wins over Florida Atlantic and Florida International, and added 10 points and 7 rebounds in a win over Rice the following game.

Redshirt freshman Paxton Ross as well as junior college transfers Lincoln Abrams and Joe Harris will vie for the power forward and/or post positions as well. Ross could be more suited for the post position, as he posessess a nice touch in and around the paint. Abrams could play a variety of positions due to his athletic ability. The 6-7, 210-pounder has the size of the departed Taylor and averaged 18.8 points and 8.3 rebounds per game at New Mexico Military Institute last season. Harris, a 6-6, 240-pound transfer from Bossier Parish Community College, could also see time at a number of positions. He averaged 8.0 points and 4.8 rebounds per game for the Cavaliers last season and helped them reach the national tournament for the first time in school history.

THE SCHEDULE

Centenary will have one of their toughest schedules in recent history. The early non-conference schedule is one that should get the Gents ready for TAAC play when it rolls around.

Highlighting the 26-game slate will be a visit to defending National Champion Arkansas in early December. The Gents will also visit Rice and compete in the Pizza Hut Classic against Alabama State and either Southwest Missouri State or McNeese State before the Christmas break, while they will visit Tulane in late February.

Centenary (11-2 at home last season) has just 11 games at the Gold Dome this season, which will force the Gents to be mentally tough. Highlighting the home portion of the schedule will be a return visit from ex-TAAC rival Arkansas-Little Rock, who opens the season for the Gents the Saturday after Thanksgiving. Also included on the home slate will be non-conference games against the University of Dallas and Stephen F. Austin, as well as TAAC opponents.

Now beginning his 16th year as a coach at Centenary College is Tommy Vardeman, who has posted a career coaching record of 74-68 (.521) since being named head coach prior to the 1989-90 season.

Things have changed somewhat since Vardeman first stepped on the Shreveport, Louisiana campus as an assistant coach in the Fall of 1979. That year, the Gents were competing in the newly-formed Trans America Athletic Conference which included schools from Louisiana, Texas, Alabama, and Georgia.

Sixteen years later, the TAAC now includes schools in Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, and South Carolina. Yet, one thing remains the same...Tommy Vardeman is still on the Gents' sideline.

The Dean of TAAC Coaches knows what it takes to produce a winning program. In his first two seasons as head coach the Gents did just that, posting a combined record of 39-20 (.661) and earning a Trans America Athletic Conference Championship in 1989-90 and a second-place finish in 1990-91. Vardeman was also named the TAAC Coach-of-the-Year his first two seasons, while producing two TAAC Player-of-the-Year selections in Larry Robinson and Patrick Greer.

In his first season, "TV" led the Gents to a 22-8 overall record, a TAAC Regular Season Championship, and the school's second straight appearance in the TAAC Tournament Finals televised nationally on ESPN.

A 1965 graduate of Stephen F. Austin and a native of Center, Texas, the 52-year old Vardeman has a wealth of experience and a knowledge of the game unsurpassed in the TAAC. His 27 years in the coaching business began at Cleveland (TX) High School and included stints at Crosby Channelview and Liberty-Eylau in the Texas prep ranks.

Vardeman moved on to the college ranks as a graduate assistant at Louisiana Tech where he completed his Master's of Education in 1970. Vardeman then coached at Missouri Baptist Junior College and Henderson State (Arkansas), before returning to Louisiana Tech as the head assistant for four years.

Following a one-year hiatus from coaching to enter private business, Vardeman got the call from Centenary to move to Shreveport and assist the Gent basketball program. While Vardeman has been coaching at Centenary the Gents have won the TAAC regular season championship and the TAAC tournament title, besides finishing the regular season runners-up once and tournament runners-up four times.

"We have built a consistent program here at Centenary," adds Vardeman. "We have had our ups and downs but overall we have a very successful program that we can be proud of."

One thing that makes Vardeman most proud is his players' success in the classroom. The Gents were recently recognized by an NCAA published report as being one of only 14 Division I schools with a 100% graduation rate for the 1983-84 and 1984-85 Freshmen classes. In fact, during Vardeman's tenure at Centenary 20 of 22 Freshmen that played for four years here have gone on to earn their degree.

Known in coaching circles for his witty repartee and fierce competiveness on the sidelines, Vardeman has instilled a break-neck style of play into his charges. The Gents have consistantly been at the top of the TAAC in scoring, steals, and turnover margin each year he has been head coach.

Vardeman and his wife, the former Sharon Crocker of Garland, Texas, have two daughters; Juli and Jennifer. Both of Vardeman's daughters are graduates of Centenary.

ASSISTANT COACHES

WILLIE JACKSON

A former standout player at Centenary College, Willie Jackson begins his seventh season as an Assistant on the Gent coaching staff this year.

Gent fans may remember "Jack", racing up and down the court from 1980-84. Arguably the finest player to ever sport a Centenary uniform, he tossed in a school record 2,535 career points (22 ppg over four years) and grabbed 1,013 rebounds (second only to former Gent and current NBA great Robert Parish's 1,820).

During his years as a Centenary player, Willie became the only player in Trans America Athletic Conference history to be named the league's Player-of-the-Year three times, and as a freshman he was voted the TAAC Newcomer-of-the-Year. The Sibley, Louisiana product tossed in 30 or more points in 21 games as a Gent, as well as having led his high school team to a then national-record 100 consecutive basketball wins.

Jackson was drafted in the fourth round of the NBA Draft by the Houston Rockets, but became the final guard released before the start of the 1984-85 season. Jackson spent the next two years (84-85, 85-86) playing in the CBA for the Wisconsin Flyers and the Sarasota Stingers.

Prior to returning to Centenary as an assistant coach in 1988, Jackson spent two years as head basketball coach at Caldwell Parish High School.

Willie is married to the former Zebber Satcher (a fellow Centenary graduate and a Lady hoopster). Together they have two daughters, six-year old Ashley and one-year old Alexis.

PAUL RASMUSSEN

Paul Rasmussen begins his first season as a full-time Assistant Coach for Centenary after serving the past two years as the Gents' restricted earnings coach.

Rasmussen, who takes over the Gent recruiting chores from former assistant Steve Roccaforte (now at Tulane), was also named the Assistant Athletic Director for Marketing and Development this past Fall.

"Paul is an extremely big asset to our program," said Centenary head coach Tommy Vardeman. "He has a great knowledge of the game and is the only person that I considered for the position when it became available."

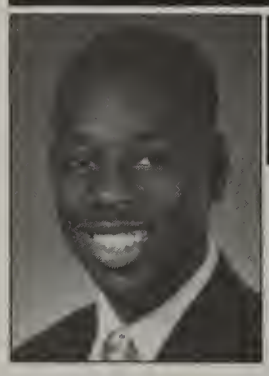
In addition to recruiting, Rasmussen coordinates the team's daily practice schedule and defensive schemes. His defensive instruction has been a key in the Gents' recent resurgence in tenacious full-court pressure. Last season, the Gents led the league in steals and turnover margin, while allowing over 100 points in a game only one time.

Rasmussen spent three years as a student manager for Coach Dave Bliss at both Southern Methodist University and the University of New Mexico, before returning to his native Shreveport to complete his undergraduate degree in History at Centenary in 1990.

Rasmussen, who also holds a master's degree in Sports Management and Marketing from the University of Richmond, was Centenary's Director of Annual Giving the last two years. He has also worked in Washington, D.C. for ProServe, a sports marketing firm.

Now 26, Rasmussen is single.

SUPPORT STAFF



DERRICK JACOBS

Student Assistant Coach

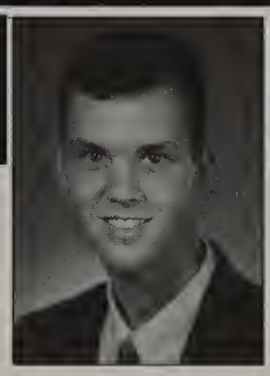
Serving the Gents as a student assistant coach this year is Derrick Jacobs.

Jacobs played point guard at Centenary the past four years, after making the team as a walk-on out of Little Rock's J.A. Fair High School prior to the 1990-91 season.

Last season, Jacobs played a key role in Centenary's 16-12 campaign that was the best overall mark for the Gents since 1991-92.

Jacobs set or tied his personal career bests in points, rebounds, assists, steals, and 3-point field goals made as a senior. He also tied a school record by nailing 10 of 10 free throws in Centenary's 79-74 win over Southwest Conference foe Rice, and scored a career-high 23 points at Georgia State.

Jacobs, 23, will graduate from Centenary with a degree in Geology this May.



MATT PRYSOCK

Student Assistant Coach

Beginning his first year as a student assistant coach is Matt Prysock.

Prysock, a junior from Benton, Arkansas, spent his first two years here as a student trainer. During that time, he served as the student trainer for the first-ever women's soccer team and most recently the basketball team.

Prior to arriving at Centenary, Prysock was a student basketball manager at Benton High School under coach Tim Hall. He was also a member of the Fighting Panthers' baseball team for one season.

This season, Prysock's coaching duties will include: Film exchange, keeping game statistics for the coaching staff, and various managerial duties.

Prysock, 20, is a business/accounting major who plans to graduate in 1996.

JOSH STONER

Student Manager

Josh Stoner begins his first year as the basketball team's student manager this season.

Stoner, a freshman from Denton, Texas, is a 1994 graduate of Denton High School.

While at Denton High School, Stoner earned two letters in both football and track and played baseball for one season.

Stoner's primary duties as student manager this season will include: daily preparation of both practice and game uniforms, as well as filming practice sessions.

Stoner, 19, an engineering major at Centenary, is also a member of Theta Chi Fraternity where he enjoys playing intramural sports.

LUCIEN BIANCHI

Guard, 6-6, 180, Sr.-2L
Phoenix, AZ (E. Arizona)

ABOUT LUC: Hopes to make a successful return to the court after playing in only seven games last season due to injury...One of the Gents' many three-point threats...very aggressive player who isn't afraid to mix it up in the middle or dive for loose balls.

❖ THE CENTENARY ATHLETICS CENTENNIAL ❖

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF EXCELLANCE

When Centenary College of Louisiana opened its doors in 1825, the state supported school was located in Jackson, Louisiana and was known as the College of Louisiana in Jackson. In 1839, in celebration of the centennial of Methodism, the Conference of Mississippi and Louisiana founded a private college named Centenary at Clinton, Mississippi. It was moved to Brandon Springs, Mississippi, in 1840, and graduated its first class in 1844. However, both schools were in rural areas and had to struggle for funds and for students. The trustees of the state college, faced with the closing of the institution for want of support, in 1845 agreed to transfer its charter to the Methodist Conference, provided only that "Christian instruction and discipline" be always offered on a non-sectarian basis. The two institutions merged that year to form the current school, Centenary College of Louisiana.

Almost 50 years later, the school began intercollegiate athletic competition in the Fall of 1894 when student-athletes formed a football team to square off against area rival Louisiana State University. On December 21, the Centenary team, then known as the "Ironsides", was defeated 32-0 by LSU in the school's first-ever athletic contest. Undaunted, the team came back the next season, and earned their first victory with a 16-0 decision over Natchez on Thanksgiving Day, 1895.

The school would survive a near tragic beginning to embark on a successful future in 1906 when the school was moved to its present campus in Shreveport, Louisiana. Obviously, things have changed drastically at Centenary since the first time the school laced up for an athletic contest. Football, the school's major sport in the early years, came to an end in 1947 due to the lack of financial support. But before football met its demise, the Gents proved to be one of the nation's best. Women's sports also competed on the intramural level before gymnastics began in 1966.

Today, Centenary Athletics can still be called one of the nation's best due to its success both on the field and in the classroom. The school sponsors 14 sports: cross-country, rifle, soccer, basketball, tennis, golf, and baseball for men, and cross-country, rifle, soccer, gymnastics, volleyball, tennis, and softball for women. Indeed, Centenary has a proud history of athletics...one that will be celebrated and expanded on throughout the 1994-95 school year.

TRANS AMERICA ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

ABOUT THE TAAC

Made up of some of the strongest private schools and fastest growing state schools in the Southeast, the Trans America Athletic Conference boasts a mixture of old and new, tradition and change, that cannot be matched. Founded on September 19, 1978, by eight NCAA Division I Independents (Centenary, Hardin-Simmons, Houston Baptist, Mercer, Northeast Louisiana, Oklahoma City, Pan American and Samford), the TAAC has evolved over its 16-year history without changing its initial premise: "assist its member institutions in the maintenance of programs of intercollegiate athletics which are compatible with the highest standards of education and competitive sports."

The recent growth of the TAAC continues with the addition of Campbell University (Buies Creek, NC) for the 1994-95 season. Campbell becomes the Conference's 11th member, an all-time high for membership. Other new additions include women's soccer at Georgia State and softball at Florida Atlantic. The TAAC also expanded its number of championships sponsored with the addition of women's soccer as a championship sport in 1993. The TAAC will crown champions in 13 sports in 1994-95, along with men's and women's All-sports Champions and the Academic Champion.

In 1993-94, the Conference reached new heights in its pursuit of superior education and athletic competition. A Conference record 533 student-athletes earned All-Academic status last year by posting a 3.0 grade average during their season of competition.

THE TAAC MAP

Trans America Athletic Conference athletes and teams rank among the nation's best, and the NCAA Championships provide the season-ending proving ground for them all. In 1993-94 eleven TAAC Champions participated in post-season competition. Florida International participated in both the men's and women's NCAA Cross Country Regionals and also in the NCAA women's soccer tournament, defeating Duke before falling to eventual champion North Carolina. Volleyball champion Central Florida participated in the National Invitational Tournament. Women's Basketball Champion Florida International hosted its first-round NCAA Tournament game and has been invited to the inaugural Preseason Women's NIT in 1994. In men's basketball, the TAAC reached an elite group by sending two teams, Regular Season Champion College of Charleston and Tournament Champion Central Florida, to the NCAA Tournament. Only 12 of the nation's 33 conference's sent more than one team to the "big dance." Georgia State became the TAAC's first entrant into the NCAA Softball Tournament and Southeastern Louisiana played in the Baseball Tournament. In golf, three teams earned bids, UCF's men, FIU's women, and Campbell's women.

The Conference continues its growth as one of the top all-around conferences in the country. With an expected total of more than 1800 student-athletes participating in TAAC play over the next year, the Trans America Athletic Conference, now more than any time in its history, is fulfilling its mission of providing the best in academics and athletics.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

RUSS SHARP

Russ Sharp was named Centenary's Director of Athletics this past August and has already made an impact.

Sharp, who spent the last four years as Assistant Athletic Director for Internal Affairs at Arkansas State University, replaced Tommy Vardeman, who served Centenary last year on an interim basis.

Since joining the Centenary staff, Sharp has created a new student-athlete training room, a student-athlete advisory committee, and has established numerous corporate sponsorships.

Sharp has also been instrumental in moving the Centenary Ladies home volleyball matches into the Gold Dome and has renovated the Gold Dome locker rooms in the process.

At Arkansas State, Sharp implemented an income-generating national licensing and merchandising program, and consolidated team and individual travel arrangements. He also developed an extensive computerized budget operating system for the entire athletic department.

Prior to his stint at ASU, Sharp spent 13 years at West Georgia College. Among his roles at West Georgia were: Assistant Athletic Director for Business Affairs, Director of Sports Medicine, Golf Coach, Executive Director of the Braves Booster Club, Administrative Assistant to the Athletic Director, and Head Athletic Trainer.

A native of Jacksonville, FL, Sharp is a 1983 graduate of West Georgia College with a bachelor of science degree in recreation. He was a student trainer at Mercer for one year before transferring to WGC.

Sharp, 37, is married to the former Teri Nash of Monroe, NC. He is a member of the College Athletic Business Managers Association and the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

1993-94 IN REVIEW

A LOOK BACK...

What a season it was for the 1993-94 Centenary Gents Basketball Team. Highlighting the 16-12 campaign was a victory over Southwest Conference foe Rice and a 5-2 start that was the best beginning for a Centenary team in 13 years. Add that to a runner-up finish at the Lobo Classic and a respectable fifth-place finish in the Trans America Athletic Conference, and you have one of the school's most successful seasons in recent years at the nation's smallest NCAA Division I school.

It is still easy to dream of what could have been. Centenary was 13-6 at one point in the season and dominated opponents at the Gold Dome, as they won their first six games at home by an average margin of 22 points. Included in those home contests was a school record 52-point victory in Centenary's home-opening 115-63 win over Wiley College. The Gents also took care of cross-town foe LSU-Shreveport and manhandled area rival Louisiana Tech 102-72 in December.

Centenary was playing like a team on a mission, desperately wanting to prove pre-season prognosticators wrong of their predicted eighth-place finish for the Gents. Most of the experts chose Centenary senior Nate Taylor as the TAAC's Pre-Season Player-of-the-Year, but the Gents proved that they were more than just a one-man team.

Taylor held up his end of the bargain early on, scoring 24 points in a season-opening 94-77 loss at Tulane, and pouring in 30 points and grabbing 11 rebounds in Centenary's 88-71 victory over North Texas in the opening round of the Lobo Classic a weekend later. He would go on to finish his Gent career in style, as he joined Robert Parish, Willie Jackson and Albert "Bobo" Thomas to become just the fourth player in school history to score at least 1,500 points and grab 900 career rebounds. Along the way, he became just the seventh Centenary player to join the "20-20 Club" when he scored 24 points and grabed 20 rebounds in a victory over Florida Atlantic.

Indeed, the Gents would prove that basketball is a TEAM game, as all 10 regulars averaged at least 5.1 points per game. Sophomore Aljay Foreman finished second on the team in scoring after averaging 12.6 points per game and hitting 89 three-pointers...just five shy of Patrick Greer's school record that he set back in 1990-91. Junior Jamar Comeaux added 9.2 points per contest, while the Gents got a career year from senior post player Allan Jaster, who contributed with 8.3 points and 5.3 rebounds per game.

But when part of the TEAM suffered injuries, so did the Gents. After defeating Rice 79-74 in early February thanks to 26 points from Foreman and 7 rebounds each for Taylor and Josh Wagoner, point guard Anthony Stephens had surgery to repair a torn thumb ligament. Starting forward James Harvey and reserve forward James Thomas were also playing injured in a stretch that saw Centenary lose five of the next six games to drop to 14-11 overall heading into the final game of the regular season at TAAC foe Central Florida. Included in those defeats was a five-point loss, a two-point loss, and a one-point loss.

Something happened in Orlando though that seemingly turned the Gents' fortunes around. Maybe it was the fact that the Gents were starting to get healthy again. Whatever it was, Centenary took advantage of it, as the Gents used six three-pointers from Foreman and 12 rebounds from Taylor to shock the second-place Knights, 80-76, and enter the TAAC Tournament there three days later on a winning note.

In the first round of the TAAC Tournament, Centenary outlasted defending league champion Florida International 69-67 in overtime as Taylor led the way with 21 points and 8 rebounds while playing the full 45 minutes. But once again, it was a team effort as the Gents clinched the game when senior point guard Derrick Jacobs came off the bench in the waning moments to get a key steal that moved Centenary into the second round.

At stake in the semi-finals was a trip to the Championship Game, televised live on ESPN. Centenary would get the unenviable task of facing the host, Central Florida, who the Gents had defeated four days earlier on their home court. Once again, Centenary relied on their bench to spark the team, as reserve Trenton Smith poured in two long three-pointers late in the contest to trim the UCF lead to just four points with 41 seconds remaining. But a free throw and a slam dunk by UCF in the last 35 seconds helped the Knights to a 93-89 victory to advance to the Championship and end Centenary's season.

Despite the heartbreak of falling in the semi-finals, Centenary had nothing to be ashamed of. Central Florida would go on to win the tournament and advance to the NCAA Tournament where they fell to Purdue University in the first round. The Gents played as hard as they could all season, and only once lost a game by more than 17 points. In fact, Centenary lost 9 of their 12 games by 10 points or less, or by an average of just 5.4 points per game. The other three losses came at the hands of TAAC regular season champion College of Charleston, the University of New Mexico, and Tulane University, who all made trips to the NCAA or NIT Tournament.

It was truly a solid year for the Gents, one that they can build upon for this season. With all but three lettermen back in 1994-95, and a talented group of newcomers on the way, Centenary should once again challenge for the TAAC title.

OUR NICKNAME

The unique nickname "Gentlemen" was first established in the fall of 1921 by new Centenary President George Sexton. It seems the football team had been in a fight the previous game, and Sexton sat the team down before the next game and told the players, "...from now on, you will all act like Gentlemen".

With the majority of Centenary men also soldiers, the moniker "Gentlemen" was a proud, looked-up-to name and a logical choice. A tongue-in-cheek account that first mentioned the new nickname appeared in the 1923 Yoncopin (Centenary's yearbook) in the football summary.

"...there was some doubt on the eve of the first game. Reports from the Marshall camp had them recruiting from the boiler factories and we were made to believe that the Marshall team was coming to Shreveport to mop-up with the 'Gentlemen' (you see we had just taken the name of the 'Centenary Gentlemen' and far be it from us to start a dispute just at that time). Well, we put on our best manners but just couldn't help running up a 77-0 score..."

The nickname has stuck ever since and it was natural to call the women's teams the "Ladies" when the school began women's sports in the 1960's.
